

Onyen Yong, Treasurer

In 2007, Onyen was appointed Assistant District Attorney and Director of Information Technology for the Middlesex District Attorney's Office in Woburn, Massachusetts. In addition, he currently serves as Development Manager for the Timor-Leste Criminal Justice Sector Automation Project, helping to design and implement an integrated electronic case-management system for the criminal justice sector agencies of Timor-Leste.

Prior to his appointment, he served three years as Director of Northeast Operations for EvidentData/First Advantage Litigation Consulting, opening its Boston office and expanding its services to the northeast. EvidentData/First Advantage are specialists in litigation support services, including computer forensics, electronic data discovery, data recovery services, expert consulting, and fact-finding for litigants.

Onyen began his legal career as an Assistant District Attorney in 1995 for Suffolk County in Boston, Massachusetts, where, during his ten years of service, he developed expertise in prosecuting complex white-collar and computer crimes. In addition to prosecuting, he was named Director of Information Technology in 1997 to develop the office's strategic technology vision. In 2003, Onyen was appointed Chief of Operations further expanding his responsibilities. His professional history includes positions with a banking institution, an international commercial real-estate development company, and a family-owned small business.

From 2004 to 2006, Onyen served as an IT and Judicial Consultant on the War Crimes Chamber Project for the Office of the High Representative in Sarajevo, Bosnia and Herzegovina, helping to create a domestic war crimes court. From 1999 to 2003, he volunteered as Project Director for the Rwandan Genocide Automation Project, helping establish a computer case-management system for tracking the caseload resulting from that nation's genocide. In 2004, Boston Mayor Thomas M. Menino appointed Onyen to the Boston Fair Housing Commission where he presides over discrimination hearings. He also serves as a director on the boards of the Justice George Lewis Ruffin Society, BOSTnet, Institute for Justice Sector Development, and the North American Chinese Basketball Association. He is a past board member of the Asian-American Lawyers Association of Massachusetts and the Suffolk University Law School Alumni Association.

Onyen earned his Bachelor of Science in Economics from the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania. He holds a Juris Doctor, cum laude, from Suffolk University Law School. Onyen is admitted to practice law in Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, and the United State Supreme Court.
